Or you're growing like crabgrass. Great!

The world's a wildly spinning orb.

Companies constantly redefine themselves and have evolving needs and budgets.

Viking took all this into account when we designed Modular Solutions.

First we created a modular solution, especially for today's computerized offices. This solution is designed to expand, adapt, flex, and really click. Forget the old cubicle cliché - the operative words here are flexibility and workability.

Just as importantly, we took into consideration our value conscious, price sensitive customers.

Business people demand practical solutions, Viking meets those expectations.
